

TIME STANDS STILL

JOHN DOWLAND

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Come again”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “Semper Dowland, semper dolens”

Third Book of Songs or Ayres – “Behold a wonder here”

“A dream”

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Go crystal tears”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “The Earl of Essex Galliard”

Second Book of Songs or Ayres – “Sorrow stay”

“Melancholy Galliard”

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Come away, come sweet love”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “King of Denmark’s Galliard”

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Can she excuse my wrongs?”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “Lachrimae antiquae”

A Musically Banquet – “In darkness let me dwell”

INTERVAL

Second Book of Songs or Ayres – “Fine knacks for ladies”

“A fancy”

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Come heavy sleep”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “Captain Digori Piper Galliard”

Second Book of Songs or Ayres – “I saw my Lady weep”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “Mr John Langton’s Pavan”

Third Book of Songs or Ayres – “Time stands still”

Lachrimae, or Seven Tears – “Mr George Whitehead his Almand”

A Pilgrim’s Solace – “Shall I strive with words to move”

Lachrimae Antiquae – “Flow, my tears”

“Fortune”

Third Book of Songs or Ayres – “Weep you no more sad fountains”

“Frog Galliard”

First Book of Songs or Ayres – “Now, o now, I needs must part”